St. Louis - 314.345.4702

Andrea is a paralegal with more than four decades of experience supporting attorneys in both federal and state courts. Her career has been defined by a deep understanding of litigation processes and a steady presence in high-stakes matters across a wide range of legal areas, including trust disputes, product liability, and appellate litigation.

Andrea plays a key role in all phases of litigation, from initial case development through trial and appeal. She is well-versed in trial preparation, court rules and procedures, and case management. Her work includes managing discovery, coordinating eDiscovery, and ensuring compliance with procedural requirements.

Known for her reliability and depth of knowledge, Andrea brings a calm, methodical approach to complex litigation. Her long-standing commitment to the legal field and her ability to adapt to evolving legal technologies make her an invaluable resource to both attorneys and clients.
