St. Louis - 314.516.2682

Benjamin is a partner who represents corporate clients in complex commercial and civil litigation, with a focus on general liability, premises liability, and business disputes. He regularly advises and defends clients across a range of industries—including construction, manufacturing, transportation, and industrial services—in matters involving personal injury claims, catastrophic loss, and risk management. Benjamin handles matters through all phases of litigation, from early case assessment through trial and resolution. His practice includes developing litigation strategies, conducting and defending depositions, preparing and arguing dispositive and evidentiary motions, and managing complex, multi-party matters. Known for his thorough preparation and practical approach, he works closely with clients to achieve efficient, cost-conscious outcomes aligned with business and risk objectives.

In addition to his core commercial litigation practice, Benjamin has handled high-exposure, technically complex matters nationwide, working closely with corporate representatives, fact witnesses, and experts. This experience allows him to evaluate risk early, manage litigation efficiently, and position cases for favorable resolution.
