Brian is an associate in UB Greensfelder's Trusts & Estates Practice. With a focus on estate and tax planning and probate and trust administration, he is passionate about helping clients plan for the future with confidence and clarity.

With a broad range of professional experience, Brian brings a practical and people-centered perspective to his legal practice. While attending law school, he interned with the Missouri State Public Defender's Office. Before entering law school, Brian worked with the State of Indiana and as a case manager serving Marion County and nearby jurisdictions. These roles gave him firsthand insight into how legal systems and government processes affect individuals and families, experience that now informs his thoughtful, solutions-oriented approach to trust and estate planning.

Brian earned his J.D. from Washington University School of Law in St. Louis, where he was a Scholar in Law recipient, served as a staff editor for the Journal of Law & Policy, and was active in the Tax Law Society. He holds a B.S. in Law and Public Policy from Indiana University.

When not working, Brian enjoys running, listening to audiobooks, and spending time with his family and two Pekingese dogs.
